

TABLE 1: Empty 3x3 table
As it can be seen the table is empty, since it is just an example

All figures and tables must fit either one or two-column width. If your table or figure will not fit into one-column, then insert a continuous section break before and after the table or figure, as described above and define it as one-column. To make the paper read easier you may want to position any table or figure that requires one-column either at the bottom of the page or the top of a new page.

C. How to display equations

Number equations consecutively with equation numbers in parenthesis flush with the right margin, as in (1)

$$2jk \partial u / \partial z = \partial^2 u / \partial x^2 + k^2 (n^2 - \beta^2) u. \quad (1)$$

Refer to “(1),” not “Eq. (1)” or “Equation (1),” except at the beginning of a sentence: “Equation (1) is....”

IV. DISCUSSION

In this Part of the Article you discuss your findings and results as well as future implications and possibilities of these research.

[illegible]

V. CONCLUSION

Although a conclusion may review the main points of the paper, do not replicate the abstract as the conclusion. A conclusion might elaborate on the importance of the work or suggest applications and extensions.

APPENDIX

Appendixes, if needed, appear before the acknowledgment. Please do not add pictures or protocols etc. directly in the appendix, but put all of them on a drive or a cloud and provide a link and a short description what can be found in the appendix when following the link.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Only if needed

REFERENCES

Place references in a separate References section; do not footnote references! Use APA6 style. Do not put figures or anything else except for author information after the references! Examples: Font size 8
